Current Asset Allocation

This section shows the asset allocation mix of your account balances at the end of the period.

Personal Rate of Return

This section shows an estimated rate of return for your account during the periods shown. This is only an approximation of the actual return.

Personal Rate of Return is influenced by the timing of your contributions, withdrawals, investment changes and fees. As a result, your Personal Rate of Return may differ from the historical Investment Performance shown on this statement. Your Personal Rate of Return reflects only the investment performance history of your account while it has been maintained by OneAmerica.

Fee Summary

This section provides a description of the fees charged to your account for this statement period. Fees are netted out of earnings, which are displayed in the Earnings/Gain(Loss) column in your Activity by Investment. For a breakdown of fees by investment, please log on to www.oaretirement.com.

Plan Administrative Fees OneAmerica	($11.76)
Plan Administrative Fees Non-OneAmerica	($5.78)
Investment Revenue Rebates Non-OneAmerica	$18.43

Important Fee Information

The dollar amount of fees reported in the Fee Summary does not include any fees associated with a fund's operating expense.

Select the "Participant Fee Disclosure" link at www.oaretirement.com to access a glossary of investment related terms for additional information on each of the fee descriptions reported on this statement.

A portion of the annual operating expenses of the Plan's designated investment alternative may be rebated to the Plan. This rebated amount is included in the Earnings/Gain(Loss) column in your Activity by Investment.

Investment Performance

This section details both annualized historical performance and current performance for the funds shown and groups the funds to an appropriate index. An index is a benchmark of market activity. By comparing the performance of your funds to an index of similar holdings, you can better measure how well your funds performed. Stars indicate investments you held money in at the end of the period.

The Importance of Investments and Diversifying Your Retirement Savings.

Information about the Plan's investment alternatives and procedures, including any limitations or restrictions imposed by the Plan on your right to direct investments in your account, can be found in the Plan's DOL Fee Disclosure and SPD. You would have received these documents when you became eligible to participate in the Plan. For an additional copy, please contact your employer.

Your Plan contributions (and their earnings, if any) are automatically invested in the default fund specified in the Plan's DOL Fee Disclosure, unless you make or have made a different investment election in accordance with that procedure. We strongly encourage you to make an active election to choose the fund in which your plan contributions will be invested.

To help achieve long-term retirement security, you should give careful consideration to the benefits of a well-balanced and diversified investment portfolio. Spreading your assets among different types of investments can help you achieve a favorable rate of return, while minimizing your overall risk of losing money. This is because market or other economic conditions that cause one category of assets, or one particular security, to perform very well often cause another asset category, or another particular security, to perform poorly. If you invest more than 20% of your retirement savings in any one company or industry, your savings may not be properly diversified. Although diversification is not a guarantee against loss, it is an effective strategy to help you manage investment risk.

In deciding how to invest your retirement savings, you should take into account all of your assets, including any retirement savings outside of the Plan. No single approach is right for everyone because, among other factors, individuals have different financial goals, different time horizons for meeting their goals, and different tolerances for risk.

It is also important to periodically review your investment portfolio, your investment objectives, and the investment options under the Plan to help ensure that your retirement savings will meet your retirement goals. For further information regarding retirement savings, individual investing and diversification, please see the website for the US Department of Labor's Employee Benefits Security Administration: <https://www.dol.gov/sites/default/files/ebsa/about-ebsa/our-activities/resource-center/publications/a-look-at-401k-plan-fees.pdf>.

Review your statement carefully.

It is your responsibility to review the investment election information on this statement for accuracy. If the investment election information is incorrect and does not agree with your most recent investment direction, you must immediately notify OneAmerica. Your Plan, your Employer and OneAmerica are not responsible for any losses your account experiences, due to any investment allocation of your account, which occur later than 30 days after the second notice of inaccurate information. Notification can occur as part of the verification and consent menu by calling 1-800-858-3829 or by logging into your account at www.oaretirement.com, and can be a written confirmation or participant statement reflecting the change.

Participant Fee Disclosure Notice

This Participant Fee Disclosure Notice advises you of information regarding fees associated with your participation in the plan named above (the "Plan"). The General Plan Information section provides general information regarding the operation of the Plan. The Individual Expenses section provides information regarding individual expenses you may incur as a Plan Participant or Beneficiary. The Administrative Expenses section provides information regarding charges for administrative expenses the Plan may incur. You are also receiving a Fee Disclosure Comparative Chart, which will provide additional information about each of the Plan's designated investment alternatives.

General Plan Information

Giving investment instructions

As a participant in the Plan, you may direct the investment of all sources of money held in your plan account. The investments from which you may choose are listed on the Fee Disclosure Comparative Chart. Your investment elections must be specified in increments as permitted by the Plan and the Plan Administrator on www.oaretirement.com or the Participant Service Center. Your investment elections will direct OneAmerica to invest your account into the selected investments, which will remain in effect until you change it by filing another direction. Your investment elections may be changed by providing a new election to OneAmerica before 4:00 p.m. Eastern Time (or at such earlier time that the New York Stock Exchange closes) of the effective date of the new election, by logging into www.oaretirement.com or calling the Participant Service Center. OneAmerica is not liable for any loss resulting from your investment election under the Plan and this notice.

Before you make your initial investment in the funds, you may request a copy of each fund's most recent prospectus or similar investment disclosure, which lists the fund's annual operating expenses and redemption fees (including short-term redemption fees caused by frequent trading). You may also request copies of (i) any financial statements or reports, such as statements of additional information and shareholder reports, and of any other similar materials relating to the Plan's designated investment alternatives, to the extent such materials are provided to the Plan; (ii) a statement of the value of a share or unit of each designated investment alternative as well as the date of the valuation; and (iii) a list of the assets comprising the portfolio of each designated investment alternative which constitute Plan assets and the value of each such asset (or the proportion of the investment which it comprises). To request this information, contact the individual designated by your Plan Administrator identified at the end of this disclosure.

The Plan Administrator is deemed to direct OneAmerica to implement investment elections as you direct. OneAmerica is responsible solely for conforming with directions from you and the Plan Administrator. If you do not follow the applicable investment's restrictions (for example, if you are found by a mutual fund to be "market timing" in violation of fund policy), OneAmerica and the Plan Administrator may prohibit you from continuing to invest in or hold certain investments.

It is your responsibility to review the accuracy of your investment elections on the confirmation notice you receive after making an investment election in the investment funds. If the investment election information is incorrect and does not agree with your most recent investment direction, you must immediately notify OneAmerica. Your Plan Sponsor, the Plan Administrator and OneAmerica are not responsible for any losses incurred by your account later than 30 days after the second notice of inaccurate information. Your first notification of the change request occurs as part of the verification and consent menu when logging in to www.oaretirement.com or calling the Participant Service Center. Your second notification is a written confirmation of your change request.

Your plan is intended to constitute a plan described in section 404(c) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act ("ERISA") and Title 29 of the Code of Federal Regulations Section 2550.404c-1. The Plan fiduciaries, including the Plan Administrator and OneAmerica, may be relieved of liability for losses resulting from your investment decisions under the Plan. The Plan Administrator is a fiduciary responsible for the Plan's compliance with section 404(c) of ERISA.

Limitations on instructions

You may give investment instructions on any day the New York Stock Exchange is open for business. Any restrictions imposed by the fund company are displayed on the Fee Disclosure Comparative Chart.

Voting and other rights

The Plan Administrator, or an individual or institution designated by the Plan Administrator, will exercise any voting or other rights associated with ownership of your investments held in your Plan's designated investment alternatives.

Participant Fee Disclosure Notice

Designated investment alternatives

The Plan provides designated investment alternatives into which you can direct the investment of funds in your account. The Fee Disclosure Comparative Chart lists the Plan's designated investment alternatives and provides information regarding these alternatives. In the event that you fail, for any reason, to provide an initial valid investment direction, the Plan Administrator directs OneAmerica to invest contributions made on your behalf in the Plan's default fund investment(s).

Designated investment manager

WealthPlan Advisors is the Plan's designated investment manager.

Individual Expenses

The Plan imposes certain charges when individual participants incur the charges. These charges may arise based on your use of a feature available under the Plan (e.g., termination/distribution fee), or services provided to you (e.g., processing a qualified domestic relations order (QDRO) in case of a divorce). To the extent this fee is not charged against the Plan as a whole, charged against forfeitures, paid by the Plan Sponsor, or reimbursed by a third party, the Plan charges this expense, and any additional charges associated with the use of a feature, directly to the affected individual participant's account. If you receive a distribution check, and request that the check be reissued to a different payee, the Plan may impose an additional fee of $25.00. In addition, buying or selling some investments may result in charges to your individual account, such as commissions or redemption fees.

The Plan imposes the following charges:

Amount	Reason
$50.00	Termination/Distribution Fee
$50.00	Withdrawal Fee
$150.00	Loan Set-up Fee
$400.00	QDRO Processing Fee
$5.00	Periodic Payment Fee
$25.00	Overnight Delivery Fee

Loan set-up fee - additional state or local charges may apply.

QDRO processing fee - additional charges may apply in the case of contested domestic relations order requiring outside counsel.

Administrative Expenses

Plan assets may be used to pay the expenses for certain plan administrative and recordkeeping services. To the extent such expenses are not charged against forfeitures, paid by the Plan Sponsor, reimbursed by a third party or paid through a revenue sharing arrangement, your account will be charged for services described based on the allocation method identified in the Administrative Expense Table.

The Plan may incur other expenses (e.g., legal, accounting and audit services). The actual amount of these expenses may vary from year to year. To the extent such expenses are not charged against forfeitures, paid by the Plan Sponsor, reimbursed by a third party or paid through a revenue sharing arrangement, these expenses may be paid from the Plan's assets and deducted from individual participant accounts on a pro-rata basis.

The actual dollar amount of expenses, if any, charged against your account is reported on your participant statement. As a participant, you pay the cost of the fund's net operating expense associated with any investment you may select.

The term "pro-rata" describes a fractional amount as determined by comparing your account balance to the plan's total balance. A fee charged "pro-rata" is allocated proportionately to your account.

To help you better understand how fees are allocated to your account, assume that your account balance is $50,000.00, and the plan's total assets are $10,000,000.00. Your pro-rata percentage of the total plan is 0.50% ($50,000 / 10,000,000$). If the specific expense is $2,500.00 annually, your account will be charged 0.50% of this amount or $12.50, or approximately $3.12 per quarter. If the administrative expense is stated as a percentage of total plan assets, such as 0.12%, then the total fee would amount to $60.00, or $15.00 per quarter.

* The Annual Operating Expense (AOE) is the fund's expense ratio. The Gross AOE is the total expense for the fund, excluding any waivers and reimbursements by the fund company. As an investor, you pay the fund's Net AOE, which is the Gross AOE reduced by any waivers and reimbursements.

The Importance of Reviewing Investment Performance, Fees and Expenses

An investment's past performance is not necessarily an indication of how the fund will perform in the future as past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate, so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance information may be lower or higher than the performance information quoted. Diversification does not ensure a profit or protect against a loss in a declining market. You should carefully consider the fund's investment objectives, risk, charges, and expenses before you invest. Information about these and other important subjects are in the fund's prospectus, collective fund disclosure, or other applicable fund information, which you should read carefully before investing. If applicable, investment in a money market fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. Although such fund may seek to preserve the value of your investment at $1 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in the fund.

Fees and expenses are only one of several factors that participants and beneficiaries should consider when making investment decisions. The cumulative effect of fees and expenses can substantially reduce the growth of a participant's or beneficiary's retirement account. For further information regarding the long-term effect of fees and expenses, please see the Web site for the US Department of Labor's Employee Benefits Security Administration: <https://www.dol.gov/sites/default/files/ebsa/about-ebsa/our-activities/resource-center/publications/a-look-at-401k-plan-fees.pdf>.
